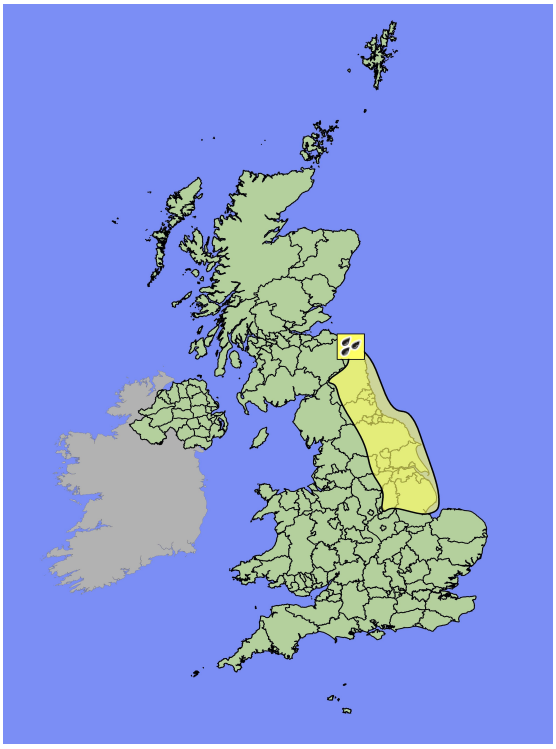
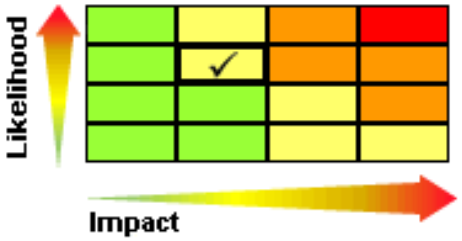
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Heavy showers will develop across eastern parts of the UK during Tuesday, although eastern England north of The Wash is at greatest risk from slow moving downpours due to lighter winds. The heaviest showers will bring a risk of surface water flooding, especially where they fall over urbanised areas.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 11:00 on Tue, 19th Jul 2011 until 22:00 on Tue, 19th Jul 2011

Slow moving heavy and thundery showers are likely to develop during Tuesday afternoon and evening across parts of east and southeast Scotland. These showers may give 10 to 20 mm of rain within an hour in a few places. The showers should turn lighter in the evening.
